SPRING!

The days are longer and warmer, flowers are blooming, new life is all around! Like childhood, spring passes by quickly and it's important for us to pay attention and enjoy the details. Here are some ideas for ways to enjoy spring with your child:

Plant a garden - kids love playing in the dirt and a simple garden can teach responsibility and patience. It doesn't take a big plot of earth, container gardens can be just as fun. Plant flowers, herbs, or vegetables, and watch them grow with your little ones.

Take a walk - Walking with your child can be so much fun. Whether it's around the neighborhood, in the woods, or even behind St. Patrick's Church after school, nature is a wonder for young children. Look for signs of spring and listen to the sounds around you.

Plan an outside meal - Breakfast, lunch, or dinner, can be fun to eat outside with your family. Let your young child help prepare and pack some food and head to the backyard, or a nearby park.
